FOREWORD

HEART SONGS is more than a collection of music—it is a book compiled directly by twenty thousand people, who not only sent in their favorite songs, but in accompanying letters told how these songs had been interwoven with the story of their own lives. All have been sent in by men and women who loved them; who cared little for the prizes, but desired to add a truly worthy contribution to the collection of Heart Songs. The personal associations of these melodies add to the familiar words a new thrill of heart interest. Each song recalls to the individual reader some tender, sad, joyous or martial association. It is a book which will be to American musical literature what “Heart Throbs” is to prose and verse.

For four years contributions have poured in from all parts of the republic—from neighboring Canada and Mexico; from distant isles of the sea and almost every continent on the globe—yet the harvest was overwhelmingly American, and although sectional features have added much to the variety of songs and to some extent represent days of strife and dissension, the mass of heart tributes shows how nearly and closely all true American hearts beat in unison, and how the bonds of music are strong and universal.

The original plan was to divide the contributions into ten classes as indicated in the announcements:—Patriotic and war songs; sea songs; lullabies and child songs; dancing songs, lilt and jigs; plantation and negro melodies; sacred songs and hymns; love songs; songs from operas and operettas; popular concert hall songs and ballads; college, school and fraternity songs. It was soon discovered that no balanced classification could be made—the tremendous preponderance of love songs, hymns, college songs, ballads, operatic and patriotic airs, any one of which might have been adjudged correctly to two or more classes, soon convinced the judges that to make the book a true reflection of the contributors’ tastes and feelings—a Heart Song book in the true sense—some classes would have to be abridged, and selections made with a view to securing those songs about which cluster personal and heartfelt associations.

In the mails came the yellow, ragged, timeworn music that had been on "mother's" piano when as a young man "father" timidly turned the music and with a glance silently responded to love's message. Old songs and hymns came in, betwixt covers that were familiar thirty, forty and fifty years ago. The old-time singing school was represented, and many a stirring strain that had made the crisp winter air ring, as the refrain was sung on a sleigh ride.

Contributors in the far West sent in songs that have the breezy "go" and dash of the intrepid pioneer. Eastern readers preserved for us songs that have been factors in history-making, and the consensus of opinion on patriotic songs reveals "The Star-Spangled Banner," "Dixie" and "America" as the standard all over the land.

The old-time sea songs, the chanteys and stirring airs, sung at capstan and halyard, were sent in by those whose memories of old days were kindled when a request came for music having in it the tang of salt air, the rush of sharp bows against crested seas, and the vikings of forgotten voyages and old wars. "A Yankee Ship and a Yankee Crew," "Blow, Boys, Blow," "A Life On The Ocean Wave" came in side by side with "Sailing," "Nancy Lee" and many others which suggest the scud of the white foam and the careening deck.

The lullabies include some rare gems—plaintive minor airs of the past century, rich with sacred memories of mothers crooning over old wooden cradles, but modern selections, Emmet's "Lullaby" and the sweet refrain from "Erminie" were not overlooked. "Rock-a-bye, Baby" is every popular favorite.

Many of the lilts and dancing tunes are full of suggestions of a remote past, and martial events possess a close kinship to love songs because of romantic memories of festal nights when dainty feet kept time to the strains of "Old Dan Tucker," as the couples mustered reluctantly for "the last dance."

Southern contributors brought to light stirring and plaintive melodies that swayed the hearts of millions during the dark days of the Lost Cause, nor did the North forget songs that were sung with heartache and tearful eyes, or cheered march and bivouac. The remarkable interest centering in the old darkey songs—the melodies of the Jubilee singers, breathing of old plantation days, show that the folk songs of America and even our national music of the future must bear the impress of the race that gave us this class of music. This is already indicated in the popularity of “rag time,” which has already found its way into well-known symphonies, reflecting the motif that rings through such an air as “Swing Low, Sweet Chariot.”

Strange to relate, the chief difficulty was in the selection of love songs. While a wide range of selection was offered, the contributors were more insistent on the merit of these particular songs than on any other music sent in, because these melodies had meant so much to them in the days of “love’s young dream.” The man or woman who had found a thrill in singing “Bonny Eloise” could not understand how “Sweet Genevieve” and more modern songs could mean so much to others. Consequently the judges reduced them all to the common denominator of heart interest and found that the old, old story is ever new, and always bewitching, no matter how the melody may vary. “Annie Laurie” is the one great international favorite ballad of all English-speaking people.

There was remarkable unanimity in the choice of hymns. The universal selection seemed to turn to “mother’s favorite,” which had meant so much at the turning point of life’s highway. The choice of “Lead, Kindly Light” and “Come, Thou Fount,” “Rock of Ages,” “Nearer, My God, to Thee” and other hymns loved by many celebrated men, proved these songs to be also the favorites of people all over the world.

In operatic selections the familiar arias of Verdi, echoed around the world, were most in favor. The song of Manrico in the tower appeared to touch more hearts than any other aria sung behind American operatic footlights. Popular opera airs were mingled through the other classes.

The long list of concert songs submitted contained many beautiful and rare selections, but the greater number were songs that have been household words for many a day, and some are still largely sold after nearly a half century of publication. These contributions throw an interesting light on national character. The popularity of “Old Folks at Home” and “My Old Kentucky Home” was emphasized, and “Massa’s in de Cold, Cold Ground” was a strong universal favorite. The melody and sentiment of the songs of Stephen C. Foster come close to the affections of the American people, and Dan Emmet, Henry C. Work, Root and other composers who flourished between 1840 and 1880 are well represented. "Old Black Joe," "Carry Me Back to Old Virginny" and many other sweetly human songs were sent in by large numbers.

The choice of college songs proved to be a matter of location. There were prime old favorites that have been inherited from the halcyon days of early schools, and are full of patriotic sentiment; many of these are almost classics, being standard tunes with only a variation in the words. "My Bonnie Lies over the Ocean" and "The Quilting Party" appeared equally attractive to various alma maters.

Like "Heart Throbs," this book represents the history, the sentiment of the American people of today, as well as of the various European races who, in this new world, have been moulded into a great and powerful nation. "Heart Songs" is a valuable and striking gauge and indicator of the popular taste of the people now comprising the republic of the United States of America. Few "rag time" songs were sent in; operatic selections were not largely in favor. Love ballads, patriotic, sacred and concert melodies were the most popular.

Songs that have entertained thousands from childhood to the grave and have voiced the pleasure and pain, the love and longing, the despair and delight, the sorrow and resignation, and the consolation of the plain people—who found in these an utterance for emotions which they felt but could not express—came in by the thousands. The yellow sheets of music bear evidence of constant use; in times of war and peace, victory and defeat, good and evil fortune, these sweet strains have blended with the coarser thread of human life and offered to the joyful or saddened soul a suggestion of uplift, sympathy and hope.

It is not unlikely that a second volume of "Heart Songs" will be demanded by the American public if the publishers can judge by the orders already received for the first. There is ample material not drawn upon, and still more contributions indicate that the mine has only begun to yield its treasury of heart songs.

From WAGNER'S "Tannhäuser"

Andante

The first system of the musical score consists of a vocal line and a piano accompaniment. The vocal line is written in a treble clef with a key signature of one sharp (F#) and a time signature of 6/8. It begins with a fermata over a whole note chord, followed by a melodic line starting on a half note. The piano accompaniment is written in a grand staff (treble and bass clefs) with a key signature of one sharp and a time signature of 6/8. It features a steady eighth-note accompaniment in the bass and chords in the treble. Dynamics include p and piu p.

The second system continues the vocal and piano parts. The vocal line has lyrics: "O thou sub - lime sweet eve - ning star, Joy - ful I". The piano accompaniment continues with similar rhythmic patterns and harmonic support. Dynamics include p and pp.

The third system continues the vocal and piano parts. The vocal line has lyrics: "greet . . . thee from . . . a - far; With". The piano accompaniment continues with similar rhythmic patterns and harmonic support. Dynamics include p.

The fourth system concludes the vocal and piano parts. The vocal line has lyrics: "glow - ing heart, that ne'er . . . dis - clos'd, Greet her when". The piano accompaniment continues with similar rhythmic patterns and harmonic support. Dynamics include p and pp.

| 1 That seat of science, Athens,
 And earth's proud mistress, Rome ;
 Where now are all their glories ?
 We scarce can find a tomb.
 Then guard your rights, Americans,
 Nor stoop to lawless sway,
 Oppose, oppose, oppose, oppose
 For North America. 2 We led fair Franklin hither,
 And, lo! the desert smiled ;
 A paradise of pleasure
 Was opened to the world !
 Your harvest, bold Americans,
 No power shall snatch away !
 Huzza, huzza, huzza, huzza
 For free America. 3 Torn from a world of tyrants,
 Beneath this western sky,
 We formed a new dominion,
 A land of liberty.
 The world shall own we're masters here ;
 Then hasten on the day :
 Huzza, huzza, huzza, huzza
 For free America. 4 Proud Albion bowed to Cæsar,
 And numerous lords before ;
 To Picts, to Danes, to Normans,
 And many masters more ; | But we can boast, Americans,
 We've never fallen a prey ;
 Huzza, huzza, huzza, huzza
 For free America. 5 God bless this maiden climate,
 And through its vast domain
 May hosts of heroes cluster,
 Who scorn to wear a chain :
 And blast the venal sycophant
 That dares our rights betray ;
 Huzza, huzza, huzza, huzza
 For free America. 6 Lift up your heads, ye heroes,
 And swear with proud disdain
 The wretch that would ensnare you
 Shall lay his snares in vain ;
 Should Europe empty all her force,
 We'll meet her in array,
 And fight and shout, and shout and fight
 For free America. 7 Some future day shall crown us
 The masters of the main.
 Our fleets shall speak in thunder
 To England, France and Spain ;
 And the nations o'er the oceans spread
 Shall tremble and obey
 The sons, the sons, the sons, the sons
 Of brave America. |

* By voice, sword and pen, Joseph Warren contributed to the cause of Independence. In 1772 and 1775, he delivered orations on the Boston Massacre. During the delivery of the second oration, the British soldiery lined the pulpit stairs, but nevertheless it was pronounced in defiance of their threats. Not long, it is thought, before his lamented death, he wrote the above ballad.

A Song of the Sea

Written from memory, by Mrs. W. A. FISHER

Probably 100 years old

1. A sail-or's life is a rov-ing life, It robbed me of my heart's de-light,
 2. Go build me up some lit-tle boat, That I may on the o-cean float,
 3. I had not sailed far o'er the deep, Be-fore a large ship I chanced to meet.
 4. "A deep blue jack-et he used to wear, With ro-sy cheeks and coal black hair,

And caus-ed me to la-ment and mourn, And sad-ly wait for his re-turn.
 And ev-'ry ship that I do pass by, I will in-quire for my sail-or boy.
 I said "Bold Cap-tain, O tell me true, Does my sweet Wil-liam sail with you?
 His lips were of a vel-vet fine, And oft time used to meet with mine."

5 "Oh no, fair maid, he sails not here,
 He's drowned in the deep, I fear,
 Near that lone island, which you passed by,
 You've chanced to lose your sailor boy."

6 She wrung her hands, she tore her hair,
 Like some fair maid in deep despair,
 Her boat against the rocks she run,
 Crying, "Alas, I am undone.

7 "Now, I'll go home and write a song,
 I'll write it true, I'll write it long,
 On every line I'll shed a tear,
 On every verse, 'Fare you well, my dear,'"

8 Go dig my grave both wide and deep,
 Place a marble stone at my head and feet,
 And, on my breast, a turtle dove,
 To show this world, I died for love.

Angels Ever Bright and Fair

HÄNDEL

Larghetto

mf

The piano introduction consists of two staves. The right hand features a melodic line with eighth-note patterns and some triplet-like figures. The left hand provides a harmonic accompaniment with chords and moving bass lines. The music is in a minor key with a common time signature.

The vocal line begins with a rest, followed by the lyrics "An-gels ev - er bright and fair,". The melody is simple and clear, with a few grace notes and a fermata at the end.

An-gels ev - er bright and fair,

The piano accompaniment for the first vocal phrase includes a trill (tr) in the right hand and a p dynamic marking. The left hand continues with a steady accompaniment.

The vocal line continues with the lyrics "An - gels ev - er bright and fair, take, oh, take me, take, oh, take me to your". The melody is more active, with many eighth notes.

An - gels ev - er bright and fair, take, oh, take me, take, oh, take me to your

The piano accompaniment for the second vocal phrase features a more complex texture with many sixteenth notes in the right hand and chords in the left hand.

The vocal line concludes with the lyrics "care, take me, take, oh, take me, An - gels". The melody is simple and ends with a fermata.

care, take me, take, oh, take me, An - gels

The piano accompaniment for the final vocal phrase features a melodic line in the right hand and a harmonic accompaniment in the left hand, ending with a fermata.

calls us we lin-ger no lon-ger; Reb-els, come on! tho' a thou-sand to one!
 stripes o'er the wild wave of bat-tle Shall float in the heavens to wel-come us on. All calls us from mountain and val-ley; Wav-ing her ban-ner, she leads to the fight.

Lib-er-ty! Lib-er-ty! death-less and glo-ri-ous, Un-der thy ban-ner thy for-ward! to glo-ry, though life-blood is pouring, Where bright swords are flashing, and For-ward! all for-ward! the trum-pets are cry-ing; The drum beats to arms, our old sons are vic-to-ri-ous, Free souls are val-iant, and strong arms are stronger, can-ons are roar-ing Wel-come to death in the bul-let's quick rat-tle,

Ah! So Pure

From FLOTOW'S "Martha"

Moderato. Dolce ed espress.

The piano introduction consists of two staves. The right hand plays a melodic line in G major, 2/4 time, starting with a half note G4, followed by quarter notes A4, B4, C5, and D5. The left hand provides harmonic support with chords and moving lines. A dynamic marking of p (piano) is present at the beginning.

The first line of the vocal melody is: "Ah! so pure, Ah! so bright, Burst her beauty on my sight; Oh! so mild, so di-vine,". The piano accompaniment continues with chords and moving lines in the right hand, and a bass line in the left hand.

The second line of the vocal melody is: "She be-guil'd this heart of mine: . . . Reft of aim, E'er she came, Dark the". The piano accompaniment features a prominent bass line with some rests, indicated by an 'x' in the original score.

The third line of the vocal melody is: "fu-ture seem'd to loom, Till her clear Bril-liant sphere New with light dis-pelled the". The piano accompaniment continues with chords and moving lines in the right hand, and a bass line in the left hand.

Fair Harvard

- 1 Fair Harvard! thy sons to thy jubilee throng,
 And with blessings surrender thee o'er,
 By these festival rites, from the age that is past,
 To the age that is waiting before.
 O relic and type of our ancestor's worth,
 That has long kept their memory warm,
 First flower of their wilderness! star of their night,
 Calm rising through change and through storm!
- 2 To thy bowers we were led in the bloom of our youth,
 From the home of our infantile years,
 When our fathers had warned, and our mothers had prayed,
 And our sisters had blest, through their tears;
 Thou then wert our parent, the nurse of our souls,
 We were moulded to manhood by thee,
 Till freighted with treasure-thoughts friendships, and hopes,
 Thou did'st launch us on Destiny's sea.
- 3 Farewell! be thy destinies onward and bright!
 To thy children the lesson still give,
 With freedom to think, and with patience to bear,
 And for right ever bravely to live.
 Let not moss-covered error moor thee at its side,
 As the world on truth's current glides by;
 Be the herald of light, and the bearer of love,
 Till the stock of the Puritans die.

The Graduates' Farewell

W. T. ADAMS

- 1 How sad mid the sunshine that gladdens this scene,
 Comes the thought that to-day we must part;
 That the bond which affection has ever kept green
 Must be severed to-day in the heart;
 That we meet in this home of our childhood no more,
 As we lovingly meet to the last;
 That we never again on this time-bounded shore
 May unite in the songs of the past!
- 2 But fondly our thoughts will return to the spot
 On the wings of remembrance borne up;
 And our hearts shall rejoice, while we cherish the lot
 That permits us to drink of this cup.
 Then farewell to our school, and farewell to the friends
 Who have lighted our pathway with love;
 Though to-day we must part, yet our prayers will ascend
 That our school be united above!

Shall We Meet

H. L. HASTINGS

ELISHA S. RICE

1. Shall we meet be-yond the riv-er, Where the surg-es cease to roll,
 2. Shall we meet in that blest har-bor, When our storm-y voyage is o'er?
 3. Shall we meet in yon-der cit-y, Where the tow'rs of crys-tal shine,
 4. Shall we meet there ma-n-y loved ones, That were torn from our em-brace?
 5. Shall we meet with Christ, our Sav-iour, When He comes to claim His own?

Where in all the bright for-ev-er, Sor-row ne'er shall press the soul?
 Shall we meet and cast the an-chor, By the bright, ce-les-tial shore?
 Where the walls are all of jas-per, Built by work-man-ship di-vine?
 Shall we lis-ten to their voi-ces, And be-hold them face to face?
 Shall we know His bless-ed fa-vor, And sit down up-on His throne?

Shall we meet, shall we meet, Shall we meet be-yond the riv-er?

When Shall We Three Meet Again

1. When shall we three meet again? When shall we three meet a-gain? Oft shall glowing hope ex-pire,
2. Tho' in dis-tant lands we sigh, Parch'd beneath the burning sky; Tho' the deep beneath us rolls,
3. When around the youthful pine Moss shall creep, and ivy twine; When these burnish'd locks are gray,
4. When the dreams of life are fled, When its wast-ed lamp is dead; When in cold ob - livion's shade

Oft shall wearied love re-tire, Oft shall death and sor-row reign, Ere we three shall meet a-gain.
 Friendship shall unite our souls; Still in Fan-cy's rich domain Oft shall we three meet a-gain.
 Thinned by ma-ny a toil-spent day, May this long-lov'd bow'r remain, Here may we three meet again.
 Beau-ty, wealth, and pow'r are laid, Where immortal spirits reign, There shall we three meet again.

The first system of the musical score features a vocal line in the upper staff and a piano accompaniment in the lower staff. The vocal line begins with a crescendo leading to a fortissimo (f) dynamic, followed by a decrescendo (dim.) and a tempo change to poco rallentando (poco rall.). The piano accompaniment mirrors these dynamics, starting with a crescendo, reaching fortissimo, and then decrescendo. The key signature is one sharp (F#) and the time signature is 4/4.

John Brown's Body

- 1 John Brown's body lies a-mould'ring in the grave,
 John Brown's body lies a-mould'ring in the grave,
 John Brown's body lies a-mould'ring in the grave,
 His soul is marching on!
 Glory, glory, hallelujah!
 Glory, glory, hallelujah!
 Glory, glory, hallelujah!
 His soul is marching on!
- 2 The stars of heaven are looking kindly down,
 On the grave of old John Brown! Cho. — Glory, etc.
- 3 He's gone to be a soldier in the army of the Lord!
 His soul is marching on. Cho. — Glory, etc.
- 4 John Brown's knapsack is strapped upon his back!
 His soul is marching on. Cho. — Glory, etc.

JOHN BROWN'S BODY (Another Version)

- 1 Old John Brown lies a-mouldering in the grave,
 Old John Brown lies slumbering in his grave —
 But John Brown's soul is marching with the brave,
 His soul is marching on.
 Glory, glory, hallelujah!
 Glory, glory, hallelujah!
 Glory, glory, hallelujah!
 His soul is marching on.
- 2 He has gone to be a soldier in the army of the Lord,
 He is sworn as a private in the ranks of the Lord —
 He shall stand at Armageddon with his brave old sword,
 When Heaven is marching on.
 Glory, glory, hallelujah, etc.
 For Heaven is marching on.
- 3 He shall file in front where the lines of battle form —
 He shall face to front when the squares of battle form →
 Time with the column, and charge with the storm,
 Where men are marching on.
 Glory, glory, hallelujah, etc.
 True men are marching on.
- 4 Ah, foul tyrants! do ye hear him where he comes?
 Ah, black traitors! do ye know him as he comes?
 In thunder of the cannon and roll of the drums,
 As we go marching on.
 Glory, glory, hallelujah, etc.
 We all go marching on.
- 5 Men may die, and moulder in the dust —
 Men may die, and arise again from dust,
 Shoulder to shoulder, in the ranks of the Just,
 When Heaven is marching on.
 Glory, glory, hallelujah, etc.
 The Lord is marching on.

The Lone Fish-ball

SOLO

1. There was a man went up and down To seek a din - ner thro' the town.
 2. What wretch is he who wife for-sakes, Who best of jam and waf - fles makes?
 3. He feels his cash to know his pence, And finds he has but just six cents.

CHORUS

There was a man went up and down, To seek a din - ner thro' the town.
 (Repeat words of stanza each time)

- 4 He finds at last a right cheap place,
 And enters in with modest face.
- 5 The bill of fare he searches through,
 To see what his six cents will do.
- 6 The cheapest viand of them all
 Is "Twelve and a half cents for two Fish-balls."
- 7 The waiter he to him doth call,
 And gently whispers, — "one Fish-ball."
- 8 The waiter roars it through the hall,
 The guests they start at "one Fish-ball!"
- 9 The guest then says, quite ill at ease,
 "A piece of bread, sir, if you please."
- 10 The waiter roars it through the hall,
 "We don't give bread with one Fish-ball!"

MORAL

- 11 Who would have bread with his Fish-ball,
 Must get it first, or not at all.
- 12 Who would Fish-ball with fixin's eat,
 Must get some friend to stand the treat.

- 5 Mistress Jean she was makin' the elder-flower wine—
 "What brings the Laird here at sic a like time ?"
 She put aff her apron, an' on her silk gown,
 Her mutch wi' red ribbons, an' gaed awa' doun.
- 6 An' when she came ben, he bowed fu' low ;
 An' what was his errand he soon let her know.
 Amazed was the Laird when the lady said — "Na."
 An' wi' a laigh curtsie she turned awa'.
- 7 Dumbfounded was he—but nae sigh did he gie';
 He mounted his mare, and rade cannilie ;
 An' aften he thocht, as he gaed through the glen,
 "She's daft to refuse the Laird o' Cockpen."

step of a foe - man drew near to thy bed. Oh, rest thee, babe, rest thee, babe, sleep on till day! Oh, rest thee, babe, rest thee, babe, sleep while you may!

The musical score consists of a vocal line and a piano accompaniment. The vocal line is in G major and 4/4 time, with lyrics: "sleep on till day! Oh, rest thee, babe, rest thee, babe, sleep while you may!". The piano accompaniment features a simple harmonic structure with chords and moving lines in both hands.

The Three Little Pigs

A. S. GATTY

1. A jol - ly old sow once lived in a sty, And three lit - tle pig-gies had she,
 2. "My dear lit - le brothers," said one of the brats, "My dear lit - tle pig-gies," said he,
 3. Then these three lit - tle pig-gies grew skin - ny and lean, And lean they might ver - y well be,

The first system of the musical score for 'The Three Little Pigs' is in B-flat major and 8/8 time. It includes three numbered lines of lyrics and a piano accompaniment with chords and moving lines.

And she wad-dled a - bout, say - ing "Umph, Umph, Umph," While the lit - tle ones said "Wee, Wee;"
 "Let us all for the fu - ture say Umph, Umph, Umph, 'Tis so child - ish to say Wee, Wee;"
 For some - how they could - n't say "Umph, Umph, Umph," And they wouldn't say "Wee, Wee, Wee;"

The second system of the musical score continues the lyrics and piano accompaniment. The piano part includes a double bar line and repeat signs.

 They all died of felo de se,
 From trying too hard to say "Umph, Umph,

 And our spir-its shall sor-row no more,
 For the glo-ri-ous gift of His love,

To pre-pare us a dwell-ing-place there.
 Not a sigh for the bless-ing of rest.

CLASSIFIED INDEX

Under this head will be found the songs in the alphabetical index, which precedes this. In this index the same song will often appear in two or more classes; because in its history it has been found popular under circumstances not originally contemplated by its composer. Thus Dixie appeared originally as a negro minstrel song, became popular as dance music, and eventually was played by military bands North and South during the great Civil War. Bonny Eloise, a sweet little ballad, mingled its strains with the rhythm of dancing feet all through the winter of 1860-61, and then (like "The Girl I Left Behind Me" in the English Army) became the last greeting of hundreds of volunteers to the loving hearts they left forever. Other compositions have been accepted by fraternal and collegiate singers for so long that they are also a part of the recognized melodies, sung at fraternal and collegiate gatherings.

It has been also considered best to recognize this fact, because some have sent songs in in one class and others the same in another, in either of which its popularity has been recognized.
